

The Ministry of Health and Welfare of the Republic of China

<https://www.mohw.gov.tw/mp-2.html>

Company Description

The Ministry of Health and Welfare of the Republic of China (MOHW) is the highest authority for the administration of the public health system, social welfare, affordable and universal health care, hospitals, pharmaceutical, immunization programs, disease prevention, supervision and coordination of local health agencies in Taiwan.

The MOHW's diversified responsibilities include health policy planning and promotion, prevention and control of disease, food safety, drug management, social insurance and welfare, relief and protective services. MOHW's mandate also includes biotechnology R & D, international health cooperation, and diverse other areas affecting public health and well-being far beyond Taiwan.

Contact Information

Name Hsien-yang Lee

Position Researcher, Office of Science and Technology

Tel +886-2-8590 7567

E-mail schylee1460@mohw.gov.tw

Address No. 488, Sec. 6, Zhongxiao E. Rd., Nangang Dist., Taipei City,
Taiwan (R.O.C.)

Sectors To Promote the Health and Well-Being of all Taiwan Citizens